

Fight the Budget Cuts

2009: $120 million in cuts

2010: $146 million in cuts

Which is causing:

- Higher tuition, with more increases planned
- Cuts in classes, departments, & hours
- Staff & faculty layoffs and furloughs
- and worse is coming....

Don't pay more for less! Resist!

Do you think signing petitions and having lame protests doesn't do anything? In California they are fighting budget cuts by occupying buildings so business as usual can't continue while it means cuts and layoffs. Let's try that! occupyuno.blogspot.com

Fight the Budget Cuts

2009: $120 million in cuts

2010: $146 million in cuts

Which is causing:

- Higher tuition, with more increases planned
- Cuts in classes, departments, & hours
- Staff & faculty layoffs and furloughs
- and worse is coming....

Don't pay more for less! Resist!

Do you think signing petitions and having lame protests doesn't do anything? In California they are fighting budget cuts by occupying buildings so business as usual can't continue while it means cuts and layoffs. Let's try that! occupyuno.blogspot.com

Fight the Budget Cuts

2009: $120 million in cuts

2010: $146 million in cuts

Which is causing:

- Higher tuition, with more increases planned
- Cuts in classes, departments, & hours
- Staff & faculty layoffs and furloughs
- and worse is coming....

Don't pay more for less! Resist!

Do you think signing petitions and having lame protests doesn't do anything? In California they are fighting budget cuts by occupying buildings so business as usual can't continue while it means cuts and layoffs. Let's try that! occupyuno.blogspot.com

Fight the Budget Cuts

2009: $120 million in cuts

2010: $146 million in cuts

Which is causing:

- Higher tuition, with more increases planned
- Cuts in classes, departments, & hours
- Staff & faculty layoffs and furloughs
- and worse is coming....

Don't pay more for less! Resist!

Do you think signing petitions and having lame protests doesn't do anything? In California they are fighting budget cuts by occupying buildings so business as usual can't continue while it means cuts and layoffs. Let's try that! occupyuno.blogspot.com

How we can fight the budget cuts:

- Talk with each other about the effects of the cuts.
- Organize ourselves to act as a united force (the larger we are, the stronger we are).
- Pass out flyers to help people get connected.
- Hold student assemblies to discuss how to take action every way as we can, and form groups to carry out different tasks to start fighting back.
- Groups of friends can create posters, flyers, websites, t-shirts, banners, etc....
- Groups could organize a one-day class strike.
- We can network with supportive non-UNO groups.
- Groups can disrupt business as usual (all they care about) so the administrators have to listen.

occupyuno.blogspot.com * neworleansstudents@gmail.com

How we can fight the budget cuts:

- Talk with each other about the effects of the cuts.
- Organize ourselves to act as a united force (the larger we are, the stronger we are).
- Pass out flyers to help people get connected.
- Hold student assemblies to discuss how to take action every way as we can, and form groups to carry out different tasks to start fighting back.
- Groups of friends can create posters, flyers, websites, t-shirts, banners, etc....
- Groups could organize a one-day class strike.
- We can network with supportive non-UNO groups.
- Groups can disrupt business as usual (all they care about) so the administrators have to listen.

occupyuno.blogspot.com * neworleansstudents@gmail.com

How we can fight the budget cuts:

- Talk with each other about the effects of the cuts.
- Organize ourselves to act as a united force (the larger we are, the stronger we are).
- Pass out flyers to help people get connected.
- Hold student assemblies to discuss how to take action every way as we can, and form groups to carry out different tasks to start fighting back.
- Groups of friends can create posters, flyers, websites, t-shirts, banners, etc....
- Groups could organize a one-day class strike.
- We can network with supportive non-UNO groups.
- Groups can disrupt business as usual (all they care about) so the administrators have to listen.

occupyuno.blogspot.com * neworleansstudents@gmail.com

How we can fight the budget cuts:

- Talk with each other about the effects of the cuts.
- Organize ourselves to act as a united force (the larger we are, the stronger we are).
- Pass out flyers to help people get connected.
- Hold student assemblies to discuss how to take action every way as we can, and form groups to carry out different tasks to start fighting back.
- Groups of friends can create posters, flyers, websites, t-shirts, banners, etc....
- Groups could organize a one-day class strike.
- We can network with supportive non-UNO groups.
- Groups can disrupt business as usual (all they care about) so the administrators have to listen.

occupyuno.blogspot.com * neworleansstudents@gmail.com